DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tsubaki et al. (6100849).

Regarding Claim 1, Tsubaki et al. show in Figures 2 and 3, an antenna with a dielectric body 11, a ground electrode 12 formed on a first surface of the body 11, a radiation electrode 22 having a first end left open and second end connected to the ground electrode via portion 16, a feeding terminal 17 (at least partially on the surface 12), a feeding electrode 21 having a first end connected to the feeding terminal 17 via capacitance and a second end connected to the ground electrode 12 via portion 15, at least a first part of the feeding electrode 21 being extended in parallel with an elongated direction of the radiation electrode 22, all arranged as claimed. Tsubaki et al. do not appear to describe an "induction coupling". However, a non-contact manner of excitation is clearly set forth. It would have been obvious to the skilled artisan that there is an "induction coupling" in the space "s2" set forth by Tsubaki et al.

Similarly, regarding Claim 2, a capacitive coupling would have been obvious to the skilled artisan to be defined or formed at the ends of the electrodes 21 and 22, particularly at the open ends remote from the grounded ends 15,16, since the spacing "s2" widens thereat.

Regarding Claim 3, Tsubaki et al. teach a quarter wavelength side associated with the feeding electrode (13 in Fig. 2 which is equivalent to Fig. 3, for example).

Regarding Claim 4, the communication device is shown in Fig. 8 as recited.
